

This document is written primarily in English and is intended to represent a typical Planning Inspectorate case document.

The purpose of this file is to test language detection where English is clearly the dominant language.

It contains background information, contextual narrative, and standard explanatory text that would normally be processed by the redaction pipeline.

The development described includes infrastructure improvements, consultation with stakeholders, and environmental considerations.

Mae rhai enwau lleoedd Cymraeg yn ymddangos yn y ddogfen hon.

Enghraifft o destun Cymraeg byr at ddibenion profi canfod iaith.

In conclusion, despite the inclusion of limited Welsh text and place names such as Caernarfon and Llanfairpwllgwyngyll, the primary language of this document is English and it should continue through the redaction process.
